E, THE SENIOR CLASS of West High School of Aurora, dedicate the 1935 edition of the Eos to the Patrons of our activities, who for twenty-five years have made our year-book possible by their unselfish financial aid. It is only natural and fitting that we thus signify our deep appreciation of their perpetual interest.

ADVISERS to Class of 1935

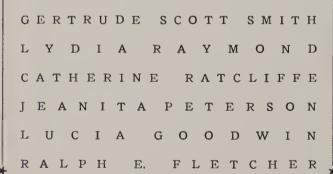

★ We, the Class of '35, wish to express our appreciation to our advisers for their constant guidance and service during our four years at West High. Their untiring efforts, encour agement, and directions have made success inevitable. To Mrs. Gertrude Scott Smith, who has capably handled the finances and participated in every event sponsored by the class, we extend our thanks. We also extend our appreciation to Miss Raymond, remembering her work on the magazine campaign. To Miss Ratcliffe, another member of our advisory group, the class wishes to extend thanks. Her work at the athletic concessions was greatly appreciated. The services of Miss Peterson, who had charge of selling confectioneries in the halls, and Miss Goodwin, who had charge of the costumes of the Senior class play, made them wellremembered advisers. In appreciation of his interest in our class and in developing men of character, we thank Mr. Fletcher. These advisers, Mrs. Gertrude Scott Smith, Miss Goodwin, Miss Raymond, Miss Ratcliffe, Miss Peterson, and Mr. Fletcher, will long be remembered for their helpful advice on all undertakings of the Class of '35.

HISTORY of the Class of 1935

By Carrie Mickelberg

★ In the fall of 1931 two hundred and twenty-two freshmen flung wide the ancient portals of that great institution of higher learning, West Aurora High School. All the leading curricular events and activities found representatives from the freshmen. Presently the need for organization became apparent, and a subsequent election followed. With Tod Ochsenschlager, President; Virgil Gilman, Vice-President; Jack Holslag, Secretary, and Robert Jones, Treasurer, the freshmen were established as an independent unit. March 18 found the freshmen entering into the social whirl with the traditional costume ball in the gymnasium. Thus was culminated the initial year at High School. Chandler Rowley was elected to guide the class during its sophomore year. Assisting him were Joe Reising, Vice-President; Venita Robbie, Secretary, and Myrtle Lindahl, Treasurer. Tod Ochsenschlager, Chandler Rowley, and John Marsh were rewarded in heavyweight football by receiving letters. Not to be outdone by their bulkier classmates, Chester Davis, Virgil Gilman, John Nelson, Bernard Murtaugh, and Wilbur Van Deventer received lightweight letters. As their contribution to the social activities of the year, the sophomores held a Valentine party on February twenty-seventh. As Juniors, the Class of '35 under the excellent leadership of John Marsh, with Jack Holslag, John Nelson, and Bob Fraser as assistants, made a noteworthy and successful attempt to gain prestige. The Booster Club, Girl Resrves, the Band, Glee Clubs, El Circulo Espanol, and the G. A. A. had junors at their helms. As a parting tribute to the erstwhile Class of '34 we sent them on their way with the glamorous Junior Prom. The executive powers of the Senior Class were placed in the hands of Elbridge Flanders, Thomas Held, Sue Egan, and Alberta Seavey. The school was entertained by the Senior Class at a Hallowe'en party. As a climax to their dramatic career, the seniors presented their class play, "Peg O' My Heart". The Junior Prom, followed by Commencement, brought to a close our four years of success and happiness at West High.

SENIOR PROPHECY

We, Elbridge Flanders, Jack Holslag, Jack Townsend, George Ruby, and Joe Reising decided to meet in 1975 to tell all we know concerning our former classmates. The results:

Butch Mitchell is blowing windmills in Holland. He is expected to do away with all other forms of power.

Norm Challis is still running.

Bill McWethy is a judge of beauty contests in Miani, and he's going to town with a micrometer.

Betty Jane Cochran just took first prize for corn husking at the Big Rock plow match.

"Spring" Baldwin has just graduated to head man in Ringling Bros. flea circus.

Lorraine Goldman, Edna Skom, and Marian Rosenthal are principal stockholders of Consolidated Meat Packing Co., specializing in ham, bacon, spare ribs, etc.

Iggy Stephens is coach of the Vassar soccer team. How ya' doin', Dave?

Bucky O'Connor has just published a book of secret snapshots of Mickey Mouse and other celebrities.

We see Tod and Grace Leah co-starred in a night club by unsophisticated Sue Egan, who is general manager.

Al Fagerholm rides a bicycle built for two. Some pickup, eh?

Jack Fohn is employed part time setting up pins in the Sylvandell Alleys.

Herb Funk hauls pail after pail to those darned elephants.

Bill Hall is looking after his newly acquired estate.

Rumor has it that Rowley is now custodian of the Old Ladies' Home.

Bert Hepburn is now the proud papa (?) of the world's second set of quintuplets.

Lucille Stumpf and Hortense Ericson are now employed in Jimmie Dawson's Corset factory.

Marion Hume and Jeanette Honey are joint proprietors of a millinery shop.

We found Jeanne Kellogg's diary. We shan't say what she's been doing. Joe Reising and Mary Bacon are managing the House of Reising basketball team.

Leona Richmond just received her truck chauffeur's license.

Beth Royston was just made honorary captain of the C. C. C.

Marguerite Schink is an artist's model in Big Rock.

Evelyn Dubois is reviving Sally Rand's bubble dance at the World's Fair of 1995.

Carol Stapleton is doubling for red headed Clara Bow in "The Barkers."

Ray Dixon is seen milking chocolates in Hershey's factory. Don't take it hard, Ray.

Eugene Wilson teaches "The Fundamentals of Poor English" to Harvard grads.

Theldon Ellis succeeds Neds Sparks as the screen's favorite cynic.

Chet Davis and Bob Wittrup are selling chin bristles to the National Brush Co.

Through our crystal we see Fred Wirt, eminent chemist, working in the G.E. Laboratory—washing test tubes.

We see by the papers that Jane Long was just granted her fourth divorce on grounds of Chase and Sanborn.

John Marsh is serving as flagman at the Montgomery tracks.

Jack Townsend just spreads his arms and makes a face; Jack is working as a scare crow on the Tribune's experimental farm.

Ray Nilles is pounding rocks at Joliet. Esther Pecoy is broadcasting "In My Solitude" from K-Y-B-O.

Chuck Weinaug has taken up street sweeping as a profession. He lifts weights as a hobby.

Strong Man Koehler is now employed shoveling smoke in a feather factory. Don't strain anything, Len.

Morris, Flanders, and Ruby are now the most pious members of The Holy Rollers.

Marian Gregory and Mary McGlaughlin are pounding typewriters for that butter and egg man, Ray Thomas.

LAST WILL and Testament

We, the Class of 1935, being of wavering mind and confused memory, do hereby solemnly declare this to be our last will and testament.

Walter Pagel leaves his piccolo to Mr. Ames — excellent firewood.

George Ruby leaves his effeminate suppleness and grace to Mr. Grant.

Bob Fraser leaves a can of red hot lotion to Chuck Schminke for his knee.

Ri Ri Michaels leaves in hope of graduating in 1936.

Wesley Lukowsky leaves for Siberia — Tally Ho! Stalin.

Jack Rennels and Walter Hastings, the schools two geniuses, leave a thesis on "The Insignificance of the Statistically Significant Relationship of Man to the Hoodlebug."

Elbridge Flanders leaves for the sixteenth time this year with the sixteenth imprint of Mr. Rea's hoof upon his pants.

Herm Burgert leaves two boxes of tennis balls to next year's tennis team. Bread cast upon the water comes back or Jane Long leaves for Stephens College. Returns "Via Air" taken within the first quarter is $22.50, Jane.

Bill McWethy leaves his extra bottle of Jergen's Wave Lotion to Chick Rosenthal—to be applied in small portions.

Ticka McWethy leaves that smooth oceanic sway to LuLu Manchester. You've really got sumpin' there, LuLu. Edna Skom leaves her accent to Halsey

Stein. No offense, Halsey.

Lym Macatee leaves for summer school. Tarzan Weinaug leaves a school full of heart broken girls.

Chan Rowley wills his east side flirtations to Phil Smith.

Jean Kellogg leaves her hair dye to Tom McWethy.

Iggy Stephens leaves his ability to make touchdowns and women to Louie McWethy.

Pony Boy Townsend leaves his Roman thought and nose to Miss Peterson. Fannie Guyton leaves everything she has -thank goodness.

Norm Challis leaves a pail of burned cinders to anyone with cold feet.

Eugene Dickerson wills his gigantic proportions to Bob Sanderson.

Playboy Mitchell and Bro Morris leave with everything they can carry.

Bernie Murtaugh leaves his great athletic ability to Dick Benson.

John Nelson leaves his habitual toughness to John Wright.

Ray Nilles leaves for the other side of the river.

Tod Oxie leaves for his job with the Jewel Tea Co.

Frank O'Connor left a long time ago. Esther Pecoy wills her golden voice to our own Elmer Flentye.

Bill Pritchard leaves his baby tricks to Val Reising.

Joe Reising leaves his No. 13 gunboats to Frank Scarpino.

Marian Rosenthal wills her date breaking ability to Janet Goss.

Norman Brubaker leaves the Physics lab. Tom Held leaves his excess foliage to Slip Meyers.

Red Royston leaves her face towels to John Monahan.

Tom Bailey wills his cod liver oil to Scarpino.

Alberta Seavey leaves her ring worm to Alberta Seavey leaves her ring worm to Russ Wilson.

Carl Sahlroot leaves a can of striped paint for the athletic field.
Fred Wirt leaves (we hope).

Wilbur Wendell Wonderly leaves his permanent wave to Tony Pauls.

Bucky O'Connor leaves his pipes to the sanitary district to be fumigated.

Stanley Springfield Baldwin, Jr., III, leaves with the family crest.

Grace Leah Daniels wills a few of the extra activities to be divided equally among many deserving juniors.

Gene Anderson leaves his black and white dog's collar to the city pound.

Bud Burgert leaves with Hortense Ericson in his custom built Pontiac.

* Two hundred and eleven students, comprising the class of '36, started their third year by electing Donald Wredling, President; Philip Smith, Vice-President; Janet Goss, Secretary; and Sol Weisman, Treasurer. These officers, assisted by the faculty advisers, the Misses Wood and Esser, and the Messrs. Meyer, Grant, and Laslin directed the class through a very successful year. The class won special distinction by holding high offices; Bill Flentye was Secretary of the Booster Club; Edythe Gee, Vice-President; Thelma Cleminson, Secretary; and Frances Paull, Treasurer of the Girl Reserves; Philomena Monaco, President; Barbara Healy, Vice-President; and Sally Greene, Secretary-Treasurer of the Girls' Club; Henry Moorman, President; and Philip Smith, Vice-President of the Science Club. Sof Weisman was a very active member of Debate. On the athletic field and in the "gym" the Juniors have performed creditably. In the home room tournament, Mr. Laflin's home room won first place. Bill Flentye, Louie McWethy, Halsey Stein, John Chrisse, Anthony Paul, and Bill Sanders won many honors for the Heavyweights in Basketball; John Titchinger, Anthony Yunkus, and Donald Wredling did their part for the Lights. In football, also, the Juniors were well known. The Girl's Basketball tournament was won by Elroya Cigrand's team and in Soccer, with Philomena Monaco as captain, the Juniors were very successful. December 21, the Juniors entertained the entire school at a Christmas dance in the "gym" preceded by the singing of carols in the new auditorium, used for the first time that day for an assembly gathering. As an approriate finish to a year of hard work, the Junior entertained the Senior at a "Prom", the outstanding social event of the year. Although during the year there were many happy occasions, a great sorrow came to us with death of our classmate, Helen Williams, January 15, 1935.

★ Upon entering the newly remodeled West High School, the Sophomore Class took up its activities under the leadership of Robert Griffeth, President; Ruth Esser, Vice-President; Maree Louise Evans, Secretary and Miriam Haried. Treasurer. Misses Mildred Banker, Esther Ballard, Una J. Pease, Mrs. W. C. Shepherd, Mr. C. J. Nebergal, and Mr. Ross M. Bergman acted as advisers. Representing the class in football were Sprinkel, Cosentino, Williamson, Hahnenstein, Eby, Griffeth, Stephens, F. Foster, Keenan, while outstanding basketball players were Anderson, Martinson, Riva, and Doris. In girls' sports were Dudgeon, Edwards, Dunham, Hubbard, Stathis, Potteiger, Cooper, and Hanson. Bob Morehouse, James Held, and Earl Huntoon were admitted to the In and About Club Orchestra in Chicago. In order that the class might keep with the tradition of its predecessors, it entertained the student body at its annual party, which was held February 11. A musical program was given in the auditorium, which consisted of a piano solo by Martha Dunham; three numbers by the sophomore members of the Mixed Glee Club, directed by Mr. Wayne Hertz and accompanied by Martha Dunham; two violin solos by Katherine Gustafson, accompanied by Martha Dunham; two numbers by a Brass Ensemble, which consists of Earl Huntoon, Judson Moore, William Kenzler, James Callmer, James Held, and Bud Johnson, and directed by Mr. Harry Nigro; and a piano solo by John Wright. Following the musical program dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium. The following served on committees for the party: Lyle Massee, Audrey Lakin, Paul Adair, Alice Jeanette Barclay, Earl Huntoon, June Hanson, Walburn Tanner, Gladys Donkle, Margaret Wredling, Henry Fletcher, Corinne Potteiger, Dale Reed, Ellen Johnson, John Kaser, Gail Annenberg, Joe Cosentino, John Marzauskas, Katherine Gustafson, Richard Matrinson, Harriet Love, Phyllis Sampson, Neil Rosenthal, Glenn Tellison, and Caroline Youngman.

STAGE HANDS

★ The Freshmen of the 1934-1935 came with great eagerness into our new high school early in October. The first duty of the new class was to elect officers to pilot our ship through the year. A committee consisting of several members from each home room of the Freshman Class nominated several worthy candidates for election. These nominations were merely suggestions for the class to follow. Later an election was held and the following were elected: Frances Keenan, President; Edward Long, Vice-President; Sue Simons, Secretary, and Raymond Anderson, Treasurer. A council of members from each home room was chosen to help our newly elected officers guide the class. The class by the help of the council and the advisers, Mr. Palmer, Miss Plain, Miss Brown, Miss Rowe, Miss Brennan, and Miss Vogt, was guided most successfully. The committes were: the Activities Committee, Chairman, Jack Bell; the Freshman Party Committee, Chairman, Edward Long; the Financial Committee, Chairman, Ray Anderson, and the Publicity Committee, Chairman, Sue Simons. Dues were voted to be twenty-five cents per semester, and a punch card system of collecting was arranged by the financial committee to avoid confusion. The dues were to be used for various purposes during the year and later on for our 1938 Eos. The class party was held on March 14th. A program was arranged to go with the gayety of the costumes. The Freshman class had two members on the first team debate - William Murphy and Zelda Ann Swimmer. On the lightweight basketball squad was Joe Nelson at guard. Various members of the class took part in the Boys' and Girls' Clubs, the Hi-Y, and G.A.A.

★ West High opened the season by defeating York 20-7 at home. On the first play of the game Davis went off tackle for forty yards, giving West a great opportunity to score. The next week West traveled to Glenbard and lost by a score of 7-0. Although West played good football, Glenbard was able to push over a touchdown in the last three minutes. West then traveled to Joliet for the first conference game, which also was West's first night game experience this year. Joliet pushed over two touchdowns in the first five minutes, but from that time on the game was all West's; however, Joliet won 12-7. Playing at home against a stubborn DeKalb team, West won 19-Traveling to Rockford for their second conference game, the heavies were defeated by the Rockford heavies, who later tied with Joliet for the Big Six championship. The score of this game was 19-0. Although the team played in mud, West triumphed over Elgin 6-0. This score resulted from a sixty yard drive to a touchdown. Freeport came to West High for one of the most spectacular games of the season. Each team scored 13 points. West scored the first touchdown; then Freeport scored. Later West scored again only to be tied up the remaining seconds of the game. The next weekWest met La Grange on the La Grange field in another thrilling game. Again the score was13-13. La Grange in the remaining seconds of the fourth quarter failed to score from the six yard line. Later in the year the game was forfeited to West when it was found that one of La Grange's players was ineligible because of the age limit. On the opening kick-off of the Thanksgiving day game, Davis ran for fifty yards being caught from behind. Several other times West threatened to score. East made the only score of the game on a long pass to win by the score of 7-0.

★ The 1934 edition of the West High lightweight football team was defeated in its first start of the year by the York lights 6-0. The game was featured with frequent fumbles and loss of the ball. As a result of the inexperience of their first game, the West lights journeyed to Glenbard and downed the tough Glenbard lights by a 6-0 score. first conference game was played at Joliet on the following Friday night; after losing some good opportunities to score in the early part of the game, the West lights weakened and allowed the Joliet lights to score a touchdown in the fourth quarter. This was Joliet's margin of victory. The following week, playing DeKalb at home, our team won 14-6. The game was featured by a run of sixty yards by Wilson on the first play of the second half for a touchdown. The lights then had an open date, which gave them two weeks to prepare for their game with the undefeated Rockford lights. After being inside the Rockford 10 vard line twice, they were finally forced to submit to a 7-0 defeat, but only after a terrific struggle. This was the best game the West lights had played so far. Next Elgin was beaten in the mud 6-0, and on the following Saturday our lightweights scored twelve points in the last three minutes of the Freeport game to win 12-6. Murtaugh caught a pass from Wredling for the first touchdown, and Eby blocked a punt to put the ball on the two vard line, from which Hepburn carried it over for the second. The next game was lost to La Grange by an 8-0 score. The annual East-West Lightweight game was played on a soggy field and ended in a deadlock The West lightweights were forced to stave off a last quarter rally, which ended with the ball on West's 5 yard line. This gave West a record of 500 per cent and third place in the conference standing.

★ Starting the basketball season with an unusually tall team, West High was successful in its first game by defeating Yorkville. Then they traveled to Downers Grove and were defeated. West High then began hitting its stride by winning from Rockford in its first conference game, and then East Aurora, Naperville, and Joliet. Meeting Elgin's extraordinarily strong team when West's team was handicapped by playing in a small gym, West High was defeated in its first conference loss. This did not stop West High's winning. The boys came back and defeated Geneva and Freeport; the last game ended the first round of the Big Six Conference with West High holding down second place. The second round started with West High's defeating Rockford, East Aurora, and Joliet in an overtime, on the opposing team's courts. West High then played Marmion of Aurora for the first time in the history of the school and won by a score of 38-31. The big game against Elgin, to which all the fans had been looking forward for weeks, was played before the largest crowd which had ever assembled in the West High gym. These two teams at the time were considered two of the best teams in the state and were tied for first place in the conference. This particular game was supposed to decide the winner of the Big Six. The score was close only once during the entire game, and it seemed no task for West High to win 30 to 21. This victory placed West High at the top of the conference with one more conference game left to be played at Freeport. Freeport defeated West High by a score 28 to 20. This sudden loss to Freeport tied Elgin with West High for first place honors in the Big Six Conference with eight wins and two defeats. West High also participated in three tournaments: the DeKalb Holiday Invitational Tournament, District Tournament, Sectional Tournament. Playing superb ball and traveling through the cold weather and snow, West High won the DeKalb tournament by defeating Oregon, East Aurora, Batavia, Milford, and East Moline. West High won the District tournament held in its own gym by defeating Plano, St. Charles, and Geneva. This qualified the team for the Sectional tournament at Joliet, in which they defeated Blue Island,

★ The lightweight basketball squad reported for practice with only one regular from the previous year in its ranks. After practicing for two weeks a very inexperienced lightweight team took the floor and defeated Yorkville on the West High court. Then followed three straight losses to Downers Grove, Rockford, and East Aurora, respectively; the last two were conference games with West High losing by a small margin. Murtaugh, the only returning regular from the year before, furnished most of the excitement for the West High fans in the early games. Then trying its luck on the home court, West High defeated Naperville and lost in a hard fought game to Joliet. After journeying to Elgin, West was defeated by the strong watch city squad, but the team redeemed itself by a home win over Geneva. A loss to Freeport finished the first round of the Big Six. West

High showed much improvement in handling the ball. Yunkis and Murtaugh, hitting the nets for the points, started the second half of the conference by losing to Rockford on the opposing team's floor, then coming back and defeating East Aurora for the first conference win of the vear. Not so successful as in the game before, West was defeated by Joliet at Joliet. With the season more than three fourths over Coach Bergman's team composed of Joe Nelson and Walt Anderson guards, Yunkis center, Bernard Murtaugh, and Richard Martinson, forwards began to click as a well polished machine and won three straight games, defeating Marmion and Elgin on the home floor and Freeport there. This finished West High's lightweight basketball season with seven victories and eight losses.

* After dropping the first three dual matches, West High won the remainder with the exception of the Glenbard match. The County Meet was won by West High; Goldman and Holslag won the doubles by defeating Burgert and Stephens, while Wonderly took third singles. West High took second place in the Big Six Meet with Wonderly runner-up in singles. The tennis team concluded the 1934 season with seven wins and four losses. West High won two out of the three matches played with East High. The lettermen were M. Goldman, H. Burgert, J. Holslag, W. Wonderly, J. Chrisse, J. Reising, D. Stephens, and J. Marsh. D. Reising, J. Reed, and R. Hanchette also played in matches. In the fall District Meet B. Schmeiser and J. Reising went to the semi-finals. W. Wonderly participated in State Meet.

THE YEAR IN TRACK

* The first dual meet was with Joliet at Aurora. Joliet won by a big score of $78\frac{1}{2}$ to $43\frac{1}{2}$. Following this was the Kane County meet, in which West Aurora placed third by scoring 28½ points. In the District meet at Elgin, West Aurora scored 17 points to take sixth place. West High, participating in the Big Six meet, placed fourth with 36 points. The last meet of the year was the annual battle between East and West, with East winning by a score of 74 to 48. For the entire track season Hooper was high point man for West High, breaking three records and taking a first in the javelin throw in the state meet. Davis, Challis, and Carr were also point getters.

DIRECTOR VOGT

Dear Diary:

May 26—With school almost over, we held our annual G.A.A. award assembly, at which Cynthia Putnam received the Senior Girls' cup and the tennis award. Mildred Fetzer won the Junior Girls' camp award. The officials of the G.A.A. were also announced in "The Red and Blue," who were the following: Margaret Flynn, President; Marian Rosenthal, Vice-President; Marian Hatch, Secretary; Alberta Seavey, Treasurer; Elroya Cigrand, Point Secretary.

November 15—Miss Vogt started tap and rhythm dancing classic after school for girls who were interested. November 27—The soccer tournament under the supervision of Miss Edna Kates had to be postponed until Spring because of the weather. December 10—All the girls in the school were entertained at a combination G.A.A. and Girls' Club party.

March 18—The seniors ended their career by winning the basketball tourney. The scores of the inter-class tournament are as follows:

Rosenthal vs. Dudgeon	20-11
Cigrand vs. Johnson	26-16
Rosenthal vs. Johnson	24-8
Dudgeon vs. Johnson	13-12
Rosenthal vs. Cigrand
Johnson vs. Cigrand

March 30—The East High G.A.A. held its annual play day. Girls from each class were chosen to represent West High.

April 10—Alberta Seavey was proclaimed the winner of the free throw contest while LaVerne Anderson was the winner of the spot shooting contest.

May 1—At last track, archery, and tennis have started. I'm mighty anxious to see who the winners of each event will be.

May 21—The Spring Festival was held and was it marvelous! Don't ask questions. I'm telling you. They had a style show as one of the main features. Diary, I'm pretty sleepy so—. But anyhow it was a perfect climax to a successful year of Girls' Sports.

★ Eighty-five members were enrolled in the West High School Band under the direction of Mr. Harry H. Nigro. The band worked on music for school activities in the early part of the school year, and the latter part of the year's achievement centered on concert and contest music. Twelve members of the band played in 200 piece Music Educators Festival Band in Chicago on March 30. Members of the band played in the Fox Valley Festival on May 10. The North Central District Band Contest of which Mr. Nigro was chairman was held in West High School on April 12 and 13. The band won a place in first division, and eleven soloists won a place in first division in the Solo Contest. The band and soloists competed in the State band contest which was held at the University of Illinois, May 2, 3, 4. The band played for more than twenty-five public performances.

ORCHESTRA

★ Thirty-five students enrolled under the direction of Mr. Harry H. Nigro to form the West High Orchestra of 1934-1935. Rehearsals were held fifth period on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. They worked on the masters, including Mozart, Gluck, and Beethoven. This year a girls' orchestra was formed from members of the senior orchestra, which played at the mother and daughter tea sponsored by the Girls' Club. The orchestra played for a joint meeting of the P.T.A. in February, the Senior Class play, and special concerts for the Woman's Club and Burlington Booster Club. Members from the orchestra took part in the music festival held at East Aurora High School, in which schools in the Fox Valley joined. The orchestra prepared "Iphigenia in Aulis" by Christopher W. Gluck, "Sleeping Beauty" by Tschaikowsky, "Magic Flute" by Mozart, and "Andante from First Symphony" by Beethoven for the festival orchestra. The officers for this year were Jerry Jerome, President; Philomena Monaco, Vice-President; and Andrew Wilson; Secretary-Treasurer.

★ 'The Girls' Glee Club started the year with the largest enrollment in the Club's history. Eighty-five girls tried out and qualified for membership. Their first appearance was November 19, 1934, when they sang for a Music Booster Rally held in the gymnasium. The girls next appeared January 31, 1935, in our new auditorium, to sing for the Girls' Club Mixer. With the beginning of the new semester, the Girls' Glee Club was divided into a first and second club. Thirty girls were selected for the First Girls' Glee, and about forty-five remained in the second group. The following officers were elected for the First Girls' Glee Club: President, Alta Anderson; Secretary, Mary Hanchette; Librarian, Adrienne Roscoe. March 22, 1935, the First Girls' Glee Club sang for the Woman's Club. Tuesday night, April 16, the same group sang for the Burlington Booster Club of the Burlington Railway. The girls were well represented at the Fox Valley Music Festival on May 10. A mixed Chorus was organized, which gave a program of Christmas music before the student body.

BOYS'GLEE CLUB

★ The Boys' Glee Club started the year with an increased enrollment under the direction of Wayne S. Hertz. Twenty-six boys tried out and were admitted to the club. They made their first appearance when they combined with the Girls' Glee Club to sing a program of Christmas music for the High School Assembly. The boys' first appearance as a club was January 10, 1935, when they sang at the Formal Dedication of the New High School Auditorium. They sang two numbers, "The Drum" by S. A. Gibson, and "Landsighting" by Edward Grieg. During the latter part of April the Boys' Glee Club gave its second annual spring concert with the assistance of the Girls' Glee Club and the High School Orchestra. The work of the second semester was devoted chiefly to music for the Fox Valley Music Festival, which was held May 10 at East High School.

* Les belles, petites mademoiselles et les tres chic monsieurs entering second year French are automatically enrolled in Le Cercle Français, the French club. The purpose of the Cercle Français is to give the student a closer contact in French conversation. The club meets in its regular class period on the last Friday of each month. Ruth Peacock and Bill McWethy are chairmen of their respective classes. At the meetings the time is occupied by French songs, stories, and games. In response to the roll call each member answers by a French phrase. Failure to respond requires a forfeit. The Christmas meeting consisted of the reading of Anatole France's famous "Le Jongleur De Notre-Dame" by Mademoiselle Raymond. Prizes awarded for games were in the form of lollypops representing the golden cock, the symbol of France, Pere Noel, and Christmas trees.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

★ El Circulo Espanol met the last Friday of every month during the class period with the adviser, Senorita Bren-Various members planned the programs, usually consisting of plays, stories, games, and interesting reports on Spanish speaking countries. At one of the meetings Miss Yvonne Getchell gave an interesting talk on habits, dress, and manners of Mexicans. Officers of the seventh period class were Robert Mellquist, President; Ida Urban, Vice-President; Walter Anderson, Secretary; and Chester Davis, Treasurer. Thomas Van Hyning, who lived in Venezuela for several years, was President of the fourth period class. Hazel Offutt, Vice-President; Alberta Seavey, Secretary; and Thomas Bailey, Treasurer were the other officers. The club, organized for all second year students, afforded an entertaining way of learning conversational Spanish.

★ The Girl Reserves, a club affiliated with the Y.W.C.A., anchored their ship in the harbor after another successful year under the capable leadership of Myrtle Lindahl as President and the able assistance of Edythe Gee, Vice-President; Thelma Cleminson, Secretary; Frances Paul, Treasurer; and Miss Helen Hanson, Girl Reserve Adviser. The club this year was represented by a large membership. The purpose of the club is to be of assistance to the destitute. This measure was fulfilled at Christmas when the members of the club filled a basket for the poor. The West High Girl Reserves, together with other Girl Reserve organizations from other parts of the city and vicinity including elementary and secondary schools, staged their annual circus, March 15, in the auditorium of the Young Woman's Christian Association. West High was well represented.

HI-Y HAS BIG YEAR

★ This year's Hi Y organization has been vastly improved with the inauguration of four class chapters, each of which carries on its own meetings biweekly plus a large mass gathering every month. Guiding the destinies of the club were the following officers: Joe Reising, President; Bill McWethy, Vice-President; Norman Challis, Secretary-Treasurer. One of the outstanding events of the Hi Y year was the Older Boys' Conference, held at Freeport in December. West High had a delegation of five boys. Speakers at the meetings included many Aurora business men. The Hi Y club stands for clean speech, clean living, clean athletics, clean scholarship, and a promotion of high standards of Christian character. The officers were assisted in all enterprises by Mr. E. B. Davis of the Aurora Y.M.C.A. and Mr. Ross Bergman, faculty adviser.

* For the purpose of promoting scholarship, fellowship, sportmanship, and citizenship to a fuller degree among all the girls of West High, the West High Girls' Club was organized in the spring of 1934. The officers elected to guide this club through the first year of its existence were Grace Leah Daniels, President: Margaret Flynn, Vice-President; and Myrtle Lindahl, Secretary-Treasurer. The faculty adviser was Miss Pauline Renne. Mrs. Smith. Dean of Girls, and Miss Vogt, Athletic Director, assisted. Each girl upon her entrance to high school automatically becomes a member of this club. The governing body, the Board, is elected by representatives from each home room, known as the Council. In addition to upholding the high standards of the school, the club strives to have its members participate in social functions. The Girls' Club sponsored a Mother-Daughter tea.

BOYS' CLUB DOINGS

★ The purpose of the Boys' Club is to give the boys of our institution an opportunity to take an active part in school government. The organization encourages scholarship, citizenship, and intra-mural and inter-scholastic activ-During the past year the club sponsored among other activities a Dads' and Lads' Night, a White Elephant Sale, and a Spring Dance. It was decided by both the Girls' and Boys' Clubs to make it traditional to have a carnival in the fall and a dance in the spring. After a considerable period of organization, it is believed that the Boys' Club is well under way and will henceforth continue to function for the good of the school. The following officers guided the activities of the organization this year: John Nelson, President: Herman Burgert, Vice-President, and Ioe Reising, Secretary-Treasurer. * Because of the expense involved, West High has not entered the District, Sectional, and State Contests in commercial subjects for the past three years. Instead, local contests have been held in shorthand, typewriting, and bookkeeping. The winners are chosen on a basis of work done throughout the year in the various classes The winners of this year's contests were as follows: Advanced Shorthand, Hortense Ericson, Mary McLaughlin; Advanced Typewriting, Kathleen Fritz, Evelyn Evans, Marian Gregory; Beginning Shorthand, Shirley Villwock, Illet Serby, Gertrude Skom, Edith Watkins; Beginning Typewriting, Speed and Accuracy, Audrey Hall, Barbara Malmer; Accuracy, Catherine Pearson, Dorothy Schlindwein; Beginning Bookkeeping, Orland Traversino, Lorraine Barz; Advanced Bookkeeping, Joe Hallisey, Maxine Rice.

DEBATECLUB

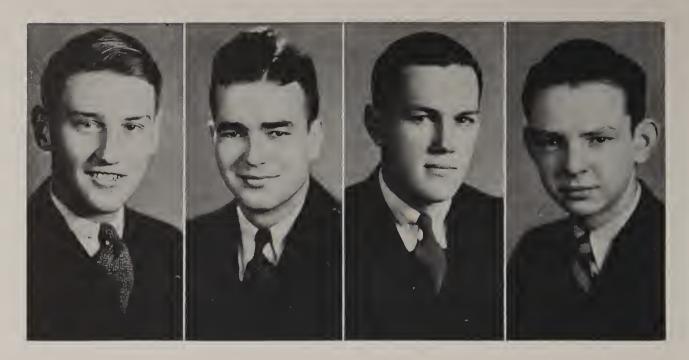

★ The Debate Club of West High started this year with thirty-five candidates, few of whom had had actual experience in debating. Freshmen and sophomores composed the majority of this group. Despite lack of training all entered into the work with compensating enthusiasm. The affirmative team chosen to debate the question: Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Enact Legislation to Provide Annual Federal Grants to the Several States for Elementary and Secondary Education, consisted of Bill Murphey, Freshman; Myrtle Lindahl, Senior; Lorraine Goldman, Senior, and Bob Millard, Senior. Elbridge Flanders, Senior; Sol Weisman, Junior; Zelda Swimmer, Freshman; Marian Rosenthal, and Walter Hastings, Seniors, made up the negative team. In the Big Six Tournament held at Joliet on March 23, West debaters won one debate.

SCIENCE CLUB

★ Under the capable leadership of Henry Moorman, President; Phil Smith, Vice-President; George Ruby, Secretary, Margaret Flynn, Treasurer; and the co-advisers, Mr. Ray Grant and Mr. Ross Bergman, the newly organized Science Club was introduced into West High, out of the seeming interest of the student body, at the beginning of the second semester. The aim of the club is to give the science-minded students an opportunity to keep up to date on current science, and to offer a better chance to understand the field of science in a more informal way and to a greater extent than regular classes permit. Due to a late start, the club confined itself mostly to organization and an attempt to instigate a visual educational program for the following years to come. Included among the interesting programs of the year was a Diesel Oil Engine Film.

★ Before a packed house, May 16 and 17, the West High Senior Class presented "Peg O' Heart," an English comedy, directed by Miss Esther Phares. The story centered about Peg O'Connell, an Irish girl, whose rich uncle had left a sum of money for her bringing up in cultured surroundings. Her aunt, Mrs. Chichester, consented to do this principally because a sum of money was to be paid to the family for rearing Peg. Irregardless of the numerous hardships presented by her mercenary aunt, Peg's personality dominates all obstacles. The cast follows:

SHAKESPERIAN PLAYS

★ On March first and second West High students had the good fortune to see a series of Shakespearian plays presented by the James Hendrickson players of New York. The company was directed by James Henrickson and his wife, Clare Bruce. They presented "Julius Caesar" and "Hamlet" on Friday. On Saturday "The Merchant of Venice" and "Macbeth" were given. Mr. Hendrickson and his colleagues came here highly recommended by the dramatic critics of New York. With Mr. Hendrickson playing the leading roles, they lived up to all expectations. In an interview Mr. Hendrickson expressed his approval of the undivided attention given him by Aurora audiences. He also declared Aurora was one of the finest cities he had visited on his midwestern road trip. Among the students selected to participate in minor roles were the following: In "Julius Caesar": Jean Henry, Mary Lou Cooper, Doris Mae Fowler, Ruth Esser, Sally Green, Gertrude Skom, Shirley Hubbard, Irene Stone, Frances Madison, Jack Fohn, Russell Hanchette, Charles Weinaug, Sol Weisman, Springfield Baldwin, and Bob Lavoy; in "Hamlet": Ivor Morris, Betty Jane Cochran, Blair O' Conner, Don Keenan, and Grace Leah Daniels; in "The Merchant of Venice": Carol Stapleton, Sue Egan, Bill Pritchard, and Walter Hastings; in "Macbeth": Beth Royston, Mary McLaughlin, Hortense Erickson, Blair O'Conner, Jack Holslag, Carl Sahlroot, J. Marsh, and Don Keenan.

good luck and great success in future enterprises. Under his able guidance West High has maintained an unquestioned scholastic standing, added many extra curricular activities, and trebled its enrollment. These facts alone serve as concrete evidence of his progressive leadership during the last eighteen years. Mr. Rea has left his mark of service at old West High.

Prayer for Peace

Rune Levine '35

The bearers of the burden can never forget

The sufferings and pains of the last war.

From the Gold Star mother to the injured "vet",

The sorrows and memories shall leave, nevermore.

The bereaved mother continues to mourn,

And sadly recalls the son that was torn

From her, and killed in the morn of his years.

And the veteran, dreaming, yet the rifle hears.

The heart ne'er stops to blench at the life in the trench

And the horror and terror and grimness of war.

The filth and the fears and the deaths still clench

A man's mind— to stop nevermore.

The cannon's blast and the shell's shrill shriek,

The screams of the dying and cries of the weak,

The machine-gun's rattle, and the crazed man's rant

Are sounds one tries to forget — but can't.

There is one group yet that we cannot forget:

Those who suffered and waited behind,

Those who had to stave off the grim, leering threat

Of death to dear ones of their kind,

Those who waited in trembling for news of the war —

And for the letters that never came,

Those who sadly the loss of their loved ones bore

Never will or never can be the same.

Shall the horrors of war and the sadness these bore

Torture those of the future, also?

Fervently hope we that nevermore

Any one else shall these sufferings know.

Dear God and Lover of Mankind, we pray

That Thou, in Thy pity and love of our life,

Will keep us and guide us apart from the way

That leads to battle and struggle and strife.

The Wind's Wonderful Tale

Eileen Smith '36

"And I say unto you
It is true. It is true,
For the smoke has told me
Just as I now tell thee."

★ The tall pines murmur, the shimmering birches whisper, and the soft grasses bend low as the sharp March wind whistles through them shouting its bold yet mournful message. That is the way the sad tale is told. The wind was enlightened by the wisp of blue smoke that curls upward, upward from the brick chimney of the little log cabin built in a small clearing at the edge of the Northern Pines. Within the cabin a ruddy fire glows and flickers in the fireplace. The dancing light illuminates the form of a frail little lady who rocks to and fro in an old-fashioned rocker. On her lap lies a slip of yellow paper which she clutches and releases intermittently as she gazes with tear-dimmed eyes into the pulsating scenes of yester-year.

Now in memory's fancy she visualizes Bobbie, a chubby lad of three, playing with his blocks on a big bear rug before a mammoth fireplace. The sunlight streams through a nearby window, and sparkling sunbeams dance in his yellow curls, and a sunny smile breaks forth on his sweet childish face.

The years speed by on winged feet — school, college, and business. Now he is a firm, serious-minded adult with just the right sense of humor and wit to be eagerly accepted by everyone, in social circles and in business, alike. His alert mind, clever, original, and precise, warrants his position as assistant editor of a nationally famous newspaper. His literary ability is recognized and praised not only by critics but also by his admiring public. Yes, only last week he had written home saying that in a few days he was to fly to a big city to be awarded a medal for his excellent achievements in the field of newspaper writing.

The little white head droops momentarily on the frail little shoulders then lifts with an effort, and the little lady rises from the chair, brushing her apron swiftly across her cheeks. As she does so, the slip of yellow paper flutters to the hearth where it settles, part of it concealed in the weird, changing shadows, and part of it exposed in the gleaming, mystic firelight.

Plane "S1149" crashed this a. m.—Robert Mackenzie among those—"

The dear little lady stoops and catches the paper in fingers that tremble violently. Her beloved son had written "-30-". The great book of life which he had been writing in honest and praiseworthy deeds since his early childhood days had to come to a close.

The wind whistles its lamentable story through the tall pines that murmur, and the shimmering birches that whisper mournfully, and the grasses that bend low with grief, and the wisp of blue smoke that curls from the little brick chimney bears its sorrowful burden upwards, upward.

Remember

Theodor Youngman '35

When hints of war are spread about
And nations then prepare
By building ships and training men,
Remember the boys "over there".
Remember the countless crosses,
Remember the men who tried,
Remember the end of that war,
And all of the men who died.
Stop to recall but a moment
The terrible horrors of war.
Then perhaps we won't trace the footsteps
Of those who died before.

They

Jack Guest '36

★ I loved my three corpses, everyone of them. They were like children to me. You would have smiled to see how well I cared for them. The people of the village called me the old "Insane One." They were stupid things to think this; they didn't know of the great work I was performing, nor did they know about the three dead ones lying in my basement. I had to be extremely careful that they didn't discover my intentions; therefore, I went about my work with great caution and slyness. Imagine, they called me insane!

For the past three nights, just at twelve o'clock, I had visited my beloved. They lay side by side on three long tables, each having a spotless white sheet for a covering. If you could have seen me go about my work, if you could have seen how careful and patient I was, you would know I wasn't crazy after all.

The fourth night, at the last breath of the old day, I silently arose, secured my precious lantern, and started for the basement. It took me an hour to reach the basement door, because I didn't dare make a sound. You would have smiled to see how slowly I swung the door. I spent half an hour slipping my head through the opening, and with the utmost cauton I adjusted the lantern shutters until only a tiny ray of light leaped out. My heart beat wildly as I directed the beam upon the tables. Ah! They were all there! Cautiously I crept forward and climbed upon a high stool, which overlooked the tables. Sitting upon this, I directed three tiny rays, each to the propped eyes of a corpse. Thus in the inky blackness I waited, and watched their eyes for signs of life. For hours I waited until, until a faint gleam kindled in the eyes of Number Three! Just before dawn, the same occurred with the other two. Large drops of cold perspiration clung to my forehead. I realized my great work was succeeding, and I would soon rule the earth with my risen dead. Somehow a faint ray of dawn managed to slip into that inky, damp room. The gleam in my children's eyes faded together, but I was not deeply disappointed, for I knew the next night would be the powerful climax.

All the next day I thought of the power I would soon possess. I could hardly wait for night to fall. Yet, yet something was wrong, something that was interfering with my sacred plans, something I couldn't place. I began to think about it, weighing each step and fact until I suddenly realized my trouble. It was with corpse Number Two. A faint smile had always lingered upon his grizzly face, and it was this that worried me. That smile mocked my every move, taunted my every thought, enraged my burning soul! I had to get rid of it. Frantically I sought a solution. I would— dare I do it? Yes! Yes! I would destroy his body and thus rid myself of that mocking smile.

Immediately after midnight I silently arose and crept through the stillness of the house. I needed no lantern on this night, only silence and darkness. Never was I more cautious. You would have laughed to see me. It was hours before I stood next to the thing I was to dispose of. Slowly, carefully, I groped into the darkness until my hand closed about his throat! With a shriek of crazed rage my fingers started to tighten like a vice—but got no farther. An uncanny, horrified feeling sprang into my soul as I realized—the body was warm—and was lifting to a sitting position!

Through the darkness I could see two huge, phosphorous like eyes glowing at me! With wild fear clutching my heart I stumbled for the door, only to blindly collide with a solid, cold wall. Frantically I searched along the wet slime of the bricks for my freedom. Ever close behind me were those silent, ghastly eyes. I could imagine feeling a hot breath against my back. A sob of joy arose as I discovered the door, the door through which I had previously entered with happy anticipation. On my wobbly, old legs I clambered up the rotting staircase, into the clean night air. I didn't dare glance back for fear of finding those eyes still following. On and on I struggled until the earth started to reel. Completely exhausted, I slowly slumped to the ground. As I stared wildly about, the truth, and blessed truth, dawned before me. All my struggles had not been in vain. I was actually away, away, from that horrible house —forever.

A Trick to Every Trade

Ida Urban '37

"One, two, three, four, five, six, Then followed silence, seven." broken several minutes later by a murmur and the tapping noise of a pencil. "Eight, nine, ten, eleven."

Since the time that Ina had seen, in a pile of old papers, a contest "ad", which she thought was simple, she had been up in her room, undistured, working on the contest.

Although the contest "ad" was in an old paper, the closing date was four days off. The object of the contest was to count the number of red dots in the living room suite pictured. First prize was the living room suite, second $75, third $50, and so on down the line.

"124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129." The murmuring and tapping ceased whenever Ina raised her eyes to rest, thinking in those moments what she could do with $75, or $50, or even Why! if she won any of the prizes, especially the $75, she could buy that ice-skating outfit she had been looking at for the past weeks, and the red and blue bicycle, and still she would have enough money to get herself a tennis racket in the spring. There would be, of course, some things for Mother and Dad. What one couldn't buy with $75.

Oh! she must get busy and finish counting the dots by to-night for sure. She wanted to mail it that very night in order that there might be plenty of time for it to reach its destination before Friday, 12 o'clock, midnight. To-day was Tuesday. "4900." Ina had still a long distance came down from her room. "6786" red dots. She had never realized, even in her imagination, so many dots, and red at that.

At last, with an empty feeling, headache, and blurred vision, Ina

Several weeks later, in the morning mail, there was a letter for Ina from the contest editor. Holding her breath and excited to the highest point, Ina tore the letter open with trembling fingers. There! was a check for $50. She had won. Hurrah!

After the excitement had subdued a little, Ina discovered that there was a letter with a check. Upon opening it, she read:

Dear Friend:

Congratulations!

The enclosed check has been awarded you for your near correctness in "How Many Red Dots" Living Room Suite Contest.

Important!
Your contest credit check is good only upon the purchase of our merchandise, priced $99.50 to $325.
The check is used for a discount. Limited to 15 days after date.

Sincerely yours. John Brown, General Manager

Her mind in a whirl, Ina sat down, dazed and bewildered. The thing finally dawned upon her. It was another "trick to every trade." When could she get the $99.50 or above, and besides who wanted furniture in the first place? All her dreams were smashed. Oh! why didn't they mention about it in the contest? 6786 red Ina felt ill every time she dots. thought about it.

About this time Ina's mother had come home from town, bringing home for Ina some dress material. Ina took the package and went to her room. To cheer herself up, Ina opened it, and then! there! before her very eyes was a piece of white silk material with red dots.

The Ultimate Expectation

Mary Hanchette '38

★ It was the night of the concert! He was nervous; but despite this fact, these nights held a thrill for him, a master, who was about to prove his ability, to exult in it, to thrill to it. Tonight's program was especially alluring because he was going to present his favorite composition for the first time. Would it receive a huge ovation, or would it merely be a well executed assembly of notes? The determination and practice which assured it of being well executed were not enough. It must be scintillating with smooth scale passages; luminous with soft, singing melodies; and brilliant with breathtaking dashes of lightning key-board scope. Tonight was the night for the opportunity to make this composition he had worked and strived on a success!

The main floor of the huge concert hall was quickly being filled with women in evening dresses, which sprinkled pleasing variations of color against the more somber evening dress of the men. The galleries were crowded with the eager, youthful faces of students. All looked toward the immense stage, in the middle of which stood a lone black object, a piano, instrument of the immortals, its glistening white band of keys awaiting the touch of the master.

The first part of the program consisted of a group of classical pieces by Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms. After a short intermission, the artist played a second group. Sitting down before the piano, he looked around a bit, played a few chords, adjusted his seat, and tried the pedals. Then he played — this time a romantic group by Chopin and Schubert.

An intermission then came, followed by a group of original compositions the first time. He came out upon the stage enthusiastically greeted by the audience and seated himself unhurriedly. Then he began his piece, playing it as he had never played it before. He had not, however, progressed far when he felt an exceedingly cold draft on his feet. Somebody had thoughtlessly left a door backstage open. A menacing chill slowly crept upwards, through his body. Knowing that if his hands became cold the results would be disastrous, he became irritated and very worried. As he grew colder, he began to shiver and became desperate. His fingers continued to move even though his mind was no longer on his composition. He played on and on—when suddenly his thoughts awoke with a start. His mind was a blank! Breaking off abruptly, he sat in a profound silence, and after a tense pause of unending duration began anew. A draft had stolen the thoughts of a great artist causing him to forget his own composition! A second time he played it with such a display of dashing brilliance, depth of feeling, and glittering runs that the audience thundered down applause with shouts of acclamation.

He had accomplished his desire not applause, but the giving of real pleasure to the people.

★ Through the united efforts of the entire class and the faculty advisers, the Class of '35 has been able to produce the twenty-fifth Eos. Each department has done its best to make the annual outstanding. The art department has worked hard to make the artistic background attractive, while credit for the literary work belongs to all contributing editors. The problem of financing the book was solved through the ingenuity of the business and subscription managers; and it was through the cooperating typists that the publishing of an annual has been accomplished. Although a student enterprise, Mrs. Smith and Miss Ratcliffe greatly aided the publication of the book by their generous advice and constructive criticism. But after all, it is not the staff, but you, the reader, who will determine the success of those concerned in the publication of the Anniversary Eos.

★ Completing its eighth year of publication, the Red and Blue has once more stopped to look back on the past year. The staff, under the supervision of Miss Lena V. Rowe, and the printing classes, with the direction of Mr. Leslie Gee, have succeeded in publishing more and larger issues than during the past years. The semester subscription policy of circulation has been restored this year. Another proof of the increasing interest in journalism was the size of the class, the largest in its history. A large delegation of the Red and Blue staff joined with equally eager ones from surrounding schools at the Big Six Press Conference held at East High on October 20. In an attempt to increase the scope of the conference, East High invited the staffs of neighboring schools. Professor Charles L. Allen of the University of Illinois spoke at the morning session and Paul B. Nelson, editor and manager of "The Scholastic Editor", at the banquet. Hidden identities and the next year's editor-in-chief were brought to light at the annual Cauldron banquet held in May. The staff, journalism class, printers, advisers, and persons having made at least three contributions to the Cauldron column were eligible to attend. The staff and journalism class wish to express their sincere gratitude to Miss Rowe and Mr. Gee.

A TRIBUTE to Ruth Van Sickle Ford

By Principal A. A. Rea

★ West High has received a most gracious and generous gift from one of its loyal alumni, Mrs. Ruth Van Sickle Ford. The gift of this beautiful picture was most opportune as it fits into the new auditorium so appropriately. In behalf of the school and the administration we wish to express our deep appreciation and hearty thanks for this thoughtful, beautiful, and valuable gift to our school.

In Memoriam

Dorothy M. Kinney * 1913 ··· 1935

★ Dorothy M. Kinney, an honor student of the Class of 1932 West High School of Aurora, passed away Wednesday night, March 27, 1935, after an illness of only two weeks. Her death was caused by streptococcic infection. Dorothy's willingness to work, her enthusiasm and idealism led her into many activities and her unselfishness made for her an everwidening circle of friends. Besides being a most efficient secretary to Supt. D. B. Heller she was an active member of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church and its organizations, being vice-president of the Epworth League, president of the Dramatic Guild, librarian of the church choir, and a member of the Sunday School. She was a charter member and one of the first patrol leaders of Girl Scout Troop 4 and later was promoted to the position of lieutenant in the same troop.

Dorothy Kinney was born May 6, 1913, in Aurora. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinney, two brothers, the Rev. Harold Kinney of Vermontville, Michigan, and Charles, a freshman in West High, one sister Ruth '33 now a student at Aurora College, and her grandmother, Mrs. Cora Townsend.

Drs. L. Morgan Chambers and Ralph M. Pierce officiated at the funeral. Mrs. Helen Manning LaMotte sang "The Prayer Perfect" and "The Rosary," both among Dorothy's favorite selections.

Supt. D. B. Heller expresses his appreciation of Dorothy as follows:

★ I desire to express my personal appreciation for the character and services of Dorothy Kinney, whom the Divine Creator in His wisdom saw fit to take from us so suddenly. Dorothy was devoted to her duties and at all times in all activities, exemplified Christian ideals. She was efficient and dependable. My office isn't the same since she left. We miss Dorothy. Her influence will, however, long continue an inspiration.

First Picnicker:-"Isn't this an ideal spot for a dinner?"

Second Ditto:-"It must be. Fifty million insects can't be wrong.'

Mrs. Newlywed:—"Oh, you did splendidly with the wall-papering, darling! But what are those funny lumps?"

Mr. Newlywed:—"Good heavens! I forgot to take down the pictures.'

A young lady entered the stationery store and asked for a pound tin of floor wax.

"I'm sorry, miss," said the clerk, "all we carry is sealing-wax."
"Don't be silly," she snapped "Who would want to wax a ceiling?"

Jane R .: - "Where is your chivalry?"

Dick R .: - "I turned it in for a Buick."

"That is a skyscraper," announced the guide.

Bob Mitchell:—"Oh, my! I'd love to see it work."

Jerry:—"I like to hear that professor lecture on chemistry. He brings things home to me that I have never seen before."

Tom:—"That's nothing; so does the Student Laundry Agency."

Chan:—(calling up his girl) "Hello, dear, would you like to have dinner with me tonight?"

Beth:—"I'd love to, dear."

Chan:—"Well, tell your mother I'll be over early.'

A baby in Prague lived two months without a brain. Looking around us, it is not a record.

Frosh:—"Boy, I'm in an awful hole."

Sopho: —What's the matter?" Frosh:—"I've spelled professor with two f's and I don't know which one to cross out.

"Jimmy," said a mother to her quick-tempered small boy, "you must not grow angry and say naughty things. You should always give a soft answer.'

When his brother provoked him an hour afterwards, Jimmy clenched his little fist and said, "Mush."

"Do you believe in higher education?"

"Well, from the letters we get from my boy in college, it couldn't come much higher."

Mr. Nebergal was putting questions to the class. "What do we call a man," he asked, "who keeps on talking when people are no longer interested?"

"Please sir," teacher." replied Walter, "a

First Mother:—"Did your daughter pass her examinations?"

Mother:-"No. They asked her questions about things that occurred before she was born.'

Gardener, and lost in the finals to Joliet 23 to 19, which finished the basketball season at West High. This team, consisting of three seniors: Joe Reising, Chester Davis, and David Stephens, and two juniors: Bill Flynte and Louis McWethy, was considered by Coach Ralph Fletcher one of the finest basketball teams that West High ever had. Chester Davis, a regular on the basketball team for two years, was elected honorary captain for the year.

Art Shoger First National Bank Bldg. A little moonlight, now and then, will marry off the best of men.

Mrs. Smith:—"This 'ere fellow thinks 'e can sing like Caruso."

Mrs. Brown:—"Well, they do say as 'ow Caruso 'ad a beautiful voice, but 'ow could they know, with 'im stranded on that island with nobody but Friday to 'ear 'im."

Rufus was proudly sporting a new shirt when a friend asked, "How many yards do it take to make a shirt like dat one, Rufus?"

"Well, suh," replied Rufus, "Ah got two shirts like this out'n one yard last night."

"I'm a little stiff from lacrosse," apologized the sophomore at the college prom.

"I don't care where you're from," replied his fair partner.

"Only don't step on my feet."

Little bankroll, ere we part,
Let me hug you to my heart.
All the year I've clung to you,
I've been faithful, you've been true.
Little bankroll, in a day,
You and I will start away
To a gay and festive spot;
I'll come home, but you will not.

Mother:—"And what did you learn in school today, dear?" Hazel:—"Oh, mother, I don't have to educate you all over again, do I?"

Golfer:—"If you laugh at me again, I'll knock your block off."

Caddy:—"Haw, haw, you wouldn't even know what club to use."

Hermi:—"Say, I wanna exchange this text-book."

Dorothy A.:—"Why you've had it a whole term."

Bud:—"But I just found out that every other page is missing."

Did you hear of the freshman who walked through the art museum, and stopping in front of a mirror, exclaimed: It must be a Rembrandt?"

★ This Silver Anniversary EOS is the first book to use the new Cellograph Halftone Process for illustration purposes. You see the results. The Staff has made a saving in our Engraving cost of close to $300.00 on our usual budget of $750.00. Thanks to Mr. B. G. Smith for suggesting the Cellograph Process and many other helpful suggestions.
